NOTICE

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying request if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the request would involve violation of copyright law.

If a patron requests more than one article from one issue of a journal, the Interlibrary Loan staff cannot place any more than the first request.

The Interlibrary Loan staff can order a total of only 5 articles from a single journal title dated within the past 5 years regardless of how many users request articles from the same journal title. A copyright notice will also be affixed to photocopies being provided through interlibrary loan.

Library materials are for personal use only unless public performance and/or cablecast rights have been obtained. The Patrick Heath Public Library cannot obtain public performance rights on behalf of a patron, nor provide legal advice concerning public performance.

Groups using playback (audio and video) equipment at the library or performing copyrighted productions must obtain performance rights from the owner of the copyright. Patrick Heath Public Library's performance licenses do not extend to programs that are not sponsored by the library.
