OprahDaily.com names Boerne's Main Street Top 25 "Need to Visit ASAP"

From Eastsound, Washington, to Frederick, Maryland, these small towns in America might not sound like they would have much in common with Boerne, Texas, unless of course Oprah Winfrey hears about these communities.

OprahDaily.com recently listed Boerne, Texas, in its collection of "The 25 Best Small Town Main Streets in America You Need to Visit ASAP."

It is the only city in the Lone Star State to make the list.

"Walking along Main Street and stopping at our restaurants, boutiques, and galleries it is no mystery that Boerne is abuzz with people," Larry Woods, Director of the Boerne Convention and Visitors Bureau said. "We are so lucky that our hardworking small business owners do a fantastic job of creating a space that is so unique – a truly Elevated Hill Country Experience – that even Oprah has noticed."

The city's historic Hill Country Mile offers a wide variety of overnight accommodations, uniquely upscale shops and restaurants, and our scenic parks and outdoor spaces.

"With Oprah Daily, my hope is that you will take the time out of your day—how little time is required—just to give something back to yourself every single day. To connect, to listen, to celebrate yourself and what matters most to you," Winfrey said upon the launch of OprahDaily.com in March 2021.
