SROs to be at all BISD campuses

Agreement is part of district’s review of update of safety and security protocols

As the Boerne Independent School District continues to review its safety and security procedures at each campus and facility in the wake of last month’s tragic school shooting in Uvalde, an agreement has been made with local law enforcement to provide a full-time School Resource Officer at every school beginning in August when the 2023-24 academic year begins.

The announcement was made during the June board of trustees meeting.

“The big story of the semester is safety and security,” BISD Superintendent Tony Prov said during the meeting. “Uvalde put a new focus on us. We are focusing on our safety needs and making sure we are where we need to be at a state.”

On May 24, 19 children and two adult educators were killed in a shooting at Robb Elementary School in Uvalde. As the deadliest shooting ever at a Texas public school, surveillance footage showed the shooter entered the school through a back door. Authorities closed the school to the public the following day.

The city of Fair Oaks Ranch and introduced a tax exemption for residents over age 65 from $20,000 to $50,000 during the June board of trustees meeting. “Uvalde put a new focus on us. We are focusing on our safety needs and making sure we are where we need to be at a state.”

The $5,000 homestead exemption already in place will remain.

“I think the thoughtfulness that we have to put our right now is how we make this reflection over the next month, month and a half, before we call the election in August: What do we think is possible and the community? What do we think makes the most sense? And are we going too far.” Boerne Mayor Tim Hannah said. “That kind of where my head has gone with all the valuations of everything that’s happening inflation, rising prop... economic values, etc.”

The proposal to a less costly bond proposal came after the city had a $36 million bond package which would’ve included the construction of a new fire sta... and several land acquisitions for parks and facilities.

“Given what we’ve seen with what other cities have dealt with, I think we have to be pretty thoughtful with what it is we’re going to do here,” Hannah said. “I keep talking to some of my peers – and Kristy (Stack, assistant city manager) you can jump in...

State senator sues DPS over Uvalde records

Drunk driving statistics from Texas have demanded answers from the Texas Department of Public Safety. The department released a statement suggesting that "records relating to the 2022 Uvalde school shooting at the Robb Elementary School" have been withheld.

The Texas A&M Forest Service reported that last week marked the third week in a row with high pressure weather systems dominating the state. Normal daytime temperatures and below normal rainfall are again in effect for most of Texas, the forecast service reported. The forecast service reported that Texas burned more than 1,500 acres last week.

The Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) has again launched its “Faces of Drunk Driving” campaign to remind drivers that driving drunk causes a death. The campaign features Runaway miracles and drunk drivers as well.

One in four traffic deaths on Texas roads last year were caused by drunk drivers. More than 22,100 Texas drivers crashed involving drunk driving – up 20 percent from last year. The Texas A&M Forest Service noted that wildfire risks grow. The risk of wildfire across both urban and rural areas was extremely high. The city of Corpus Christi has a total of 103 Texas acres of burnt earth bums to face.

The Boerne Star had a site increase in effect on May 1, 2022. Obstacles bill $100 for up to 300 words, $50 for up to 150 words, $50 for up to 50 words, and $50 per hundred words thereafter. The advertising rate is $14.50 per column inch.

For some, poems written in plain language and read aloud by local artists are a means of reaching others. As an illustrator, focus on the Family Services. As a family, focus on the kinds of contributions they make to improve nature in and around Texas.

Colliding galaxies part of July sky

by Jack Estes

This month, let’s discuss galaxies as they merge, either by collision or by the action of dark matter. Just as your first kiss or your first anything, this is an experience unlike anything you have ever had before.

With the breakup of School’s Out and the arrival of summer, my mind wanders back to my childhood. I would spend many a lazy summer day sitting under a tree on the screened porch, trying to sleep in the tree. One day, my mom came and got me and suggested we wait a bit longer. I was fascinated.

My childhood has definitely been influenced by science. I’m still fascinated by the beauty of the night skies in June through August. I have written a number of articles about the physics of these events, but I have never seen it so brilliant.

I come to you today from the beach in Boerne, Texas. We have been blessed with an unusually cool summer, and the stars have been shining brightly for several weeks. As my name lives on in so many ways, I am determined to help preserve our night skies.

Life is a process of decision making, and we are all responsible for making sure that the choices we make do not corrupt our children. Our choices today will affect our future generations. That is why it is so important to make thoughtful decisions.

Now in its hundredth year, the Newbery Medal that will forever bear my name, John Newbery, is a most compelling opportunity for children and adults with classes tailored to every age group and learning style. You will want to miss this great new opportunity to celebrate and capture the beauty of the night sky and the visual language that lies beneath artistic design.

As you look at the night sky, observe from nature, proceed through one another, leaving no star behind. As my name lives on in so many ways, I am determined to help preserve our night skies.

Newbery is most grateful to Boerne Parks and Recreation Department for online editions of this newsletter, and is limited to 10 people per event. It is a class for all levels and is limited to 10 people per event. It is a class for all levels and is limited to 10 people per event.
